pon the Zane Street Question Wharfage Ordinance—The Bridge

had been referred the question whether the Bridge Company was entitled to keep up Zane street or not, gave the following opinion the on subject to Council. This estion has been coming up periodically for years, and we think is now clearly and atisfactorily settled by the Solicitor.

The wharfage ordinance was also ques ed it conflicted with the Federal Constitu-tion. This, also, is passed on by the Soli-questions were referred to me for report, vix:

First—Is the Wheeling and Belmont the Bridge Company under obligation to keep Zane street in repair?

Second—Are the proposed amendments to the Wharfage Ordinance constitutional?

The Wheeling and Belmont Bridge Company was incorporated an 1810. Subsequently the wooden bridge was built and certain ferry franchises were obtained, all of which became the property of Daniel Zane and Ebenezer Zane. In 1847 this property was held by trustees, Henry Moore being 'trustee for Ebenezer Zane, and Daniel Calist being trustee for Daniel Zane. On January 27, 1847, an agreement was made between these parties on the one part and Wm. Paxton and 5 others the other part for the sale of the property to Paxton and others, who were to reorganize the Bridge Company. It was not a sale, but an agreement to sell. There was to be included in the proposed sale a right of way sixty-six feet wide across the Island from the western terminus of the bridge to be erected to the eastern terminus of the wooden bridge, and it was agreed that the said Paxton and others, either in their proposed corporate capacity or otherwise as they should elect) should be bound to said Moore and List. Trustees, to keep the way in good condition and repair for all time. Afterwards, on March 18th, 1847, an act of the Legislature was passed reviving and keeping in force the former charter of the Bridge Company—with the said Paxton and others as individuals) the wooden bridge and adjacent or appurteant lands, all the conditions precedent to the proposed sale and conveyance having been complied with, the said Trustages and Daniel Zane united in a deed conveying to the Wheeling and Belmont Bridge Company (not to Paxton and others as andividuals) the wooden bridge and adjacent or appurteant lands, all the ferry rights and property and certain lands on the cast side of the Island, for new bridge abutments, &c., and a right of way sixty-six feet wide across the Island in terms as follows:

ferry rights and property and certain langs on the east side of the Island, for new bridge abutments, &c., and a right of way sixty-six feet, wide across the Island in terms as follows:

"Also the right of way for said bridge company, and all persons, vehicles, or other things passing over either or both of said bridges, or any ferry hereby granted, along and over the following described tract of land, part of said Island, containing three acres, three roods and twelve perches, more or less, and bounded as follows." [Here follows in the deed the courses and distances, comprising what is now Zane street.] "And the right at all times to enter upon the said tract of three acres, three roads and twelve perches, over which a right of way is hereinbefore granted for the purpose of making, repairing and keeping in repair, a good and sufficient road and way over the same by macadamizing or otherwise, as to said bridge company or its assigns shall seem expedient.

the same ground was dedicated to the pub-lic by the plats laying off the Island addi-tions to the city, and was called Zane tions to the city, and was called Zane street.

I am not able to see that the Bridge Company is in any way required to keep the street in repair.

As to its right to enclose by a fence, certain portions of Zane street in front of a brick house at the east and of the west bridge, I have not found that it has such a right; and I have not learned otherwise than as may be inferred from the resolution of Council referring the question to me, that it has claimed such a right.

As to the Wharfage Ordinance, I understand that the question raised is as to whether the provision therein, requiring the rates of wharfage to be estimated by the ton would be a tax on tonnage, and therefore within the terms of the prohibition of the Constitution of the United States.

Heretofore the ordinance has clearified.

essels, prescribing a fixed sum for ves-els of from one to two hundred tons sels of from one to two hundred tons burden, and another sum for vessels of from two to three hundred tons, and so on for larger vessels, so that the tonnage of the vessel has always been the basis of calculation in fixing the wharfage. The change in this respect making the rate so much per ton has been made partly for brevity, partly to make it correspond with the systems of other cities, and partly because it is more just than a plan by which a vessel of 101 tons would pay the same toll as a vessel of 192 tons.

SEC. 4. The first section of an ordinance in relation to Insurance companies and brokers is hereby repealed, as are also all of the ordinances and parts of ordinances so far as they are in conflict with the provisions of this ordinance shall be in force from and after its passage.

Although questions about wharfage tolls have frequently been before the Courts I have not found that the constitutional question here suggested has been squarely raised or decided until recently.
